GENERAL ORDER

1.30

USE OF FORCE – PRINCIPLES

POLICY

All officers of the Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department (IMPD) will uphold the United States Constitution, federal law, Indiana state law, and department policy while fulfilling their duty to protect human life, maintain civil order, and protect property. It is the policy of IMPD to accomplish its mission effectively, with the cooperation of the public, and with minimal reliance upon the use of physical force. Additional restrictions and guidelines regarding the use of less lethal devices can be found in General Order 1.32 – Less Lethal Devices. Uses of force will be reported and investigated in accordance with General Order 1.31 – Use of Force Investigation, Reporting, and Review.

PROCEDURES

I. Officers will only use force that is objectively reasonable.

- A. The objective reasonableness of a use of force is based on the totality of the circumstances known by the officer at the time of the use of force.
 - 1. The objective reasonableness of force must be judged from the perspective of what a reasonable officer would use under the same or a similar situation.
 - 2. Factors to be considered in determining reasonableness include:
 - a. The severity of the crimes;
 - b. The immediate threat the suspect poses to the safety of the officers or others;
 - c. Whether the suspect is actively resisting or attempting to evade by fleeing;
 - d. The risk of harm to officers or innocent citizens the use of force poses;
 - e. Whether additional de-escalation techniques are feasible;
 - f. Known physical, medical, or mental impairments that hinder compliance;
 - g. Effects of drugs and alcohol on the subject;
 - h. Contextual factors (number of officers, skill level, age, size, strength, etc.);
 - i. Proximity of weapons or dangerous devices; and
 - j. Any other relevant factors.
- B. Officers will rely on their training, experience, and assessment of the situation to determine the appropriate level of force given the circumstances.
 - 1. Officers are not required to use the same type or amount of force as the subject.
 - 2. The more immediate the threat and the more likely the threat will result in death or serious physical injury, the greater the level of force may be required to counter it.

3. As a situation changes, including while actively using force, officers must reevaluate their response. Use of physical force must be discontinued when resistance ceases or when the incident is under control.

II. Officers will only use force for legitimate law enforcement objectives

A. Officers may use reasonable force to:

1. Protect the officer or a third person;
2. To make an arrest, detention, or to carry out a lawful search;
3. Overcome resistance directed at the officer or others;
4. Prevent or terminate the commission of a crime;
5. Prevent property damage or loss,
6. Prevent escape;
7. Intervene to provide medical care; or
8. Any other legitimate law enforcement purpose.

- ### B. Physical force will not be used against individuals in restraints, except when objectively reasonable to prevent escape or imminent bodily injury to the subject, officers, or another person.

III. Officers should attempt to de-escalate situations with the goal of resolving encounters without the use of force, when feasible.

- ### A. De-escalation techniques include the use of communication, time, distance, barriers, and continual situational assessment.

- ### B. Officers will conduct a threat assessment to avoid placing themselves or others in undue jeopardy.

- ### C. Officers will look for opportunities to slow encounters down in order to gain voluntary compliance or call for additional resources (e.g., CIT officers, SWAT, less-lethal launchers, etc.).

- ### D. Officers will look for opportunities to increase distance to maximize tactical advantage and reaction time.

- ### E. Officers will use their training and experience to identify barriers such as:

1. Use cover and concealment;
2. Use natural barriers in the immediate environment; and
3. Place barriers between uncooperative subjects and officers.

- ### F. Officers will use communication to gain voluntary compliance, such as:

1. Clear verbal instructions;
2. Verbal persuasion and advice;
3. Non-verbal techniques for language barriers or hearing/comprehension impairments; and
4. Verbal warning prior to the use of force, when feasible.

IV. Deadly force is prohibited except as prescribed below.

- A. An officer is justified in using deadly force upon another person only when the officer reasonably believes, based on the totality of the circumstances, that such force is necessary for either of the following reasons:
 - 1. To defend against an imminent threat of death or serious bodily injury to the officer or to another person.
 - 2. To apprehend a fleeing person for any felony that threatened or resulted in death or serious bodily injury, if the officer reasonably believes that the person will cause death or serious bodily injury to another unless immediately apprehended.
- B. Deadly force is any force that creates a substantial risk of death or serious bodily injury.
- C. Serious bodily injury is any injury that creates a substantial risk of serious permanent disfigurement, unconsciousness, extreme pain, permanent or protracted loss or impairment of the function of a bodily member or organ, or loss of a fetus.
- D. Where feasible, an officer shall, prior to the use of force, make reasonable efforts to identify themselves as an officer and to warn that deadly force may be used.
- E. Warning shots are prohibited.
- F. Shooting at or from moving vehicles or occupants is prohibited. Any deviation from this prohibition shall be examined on a case by case basis. The involved officer must be able to clearly articulate the reasons for the use of force.
- G. Deadly force will not be used against a person whose actions are a threat only to themselves or property.
- H. Chokeholds are prohibited.

V. As soon as reasonably possible following a use of force, officers will evaluate the subject for injuries, request Emergency Medical Services (EMS) as needed or requested, and render appropriate aid according to their training and experience.

- A. When safe and feasible officers will:
 - 1. Request EMS response for any injury or sign of medical distress, unless the injuries are minor (e.g., complaint of pain, small cuts and abrasions);
 - 2. Render aid according to their training and experience, unless aid is declined. Consent should be assumed for unconscious subjects or those incapable of providing consent;
 - 3. Place prone subjects in an upright or recovery position, when appropriate and feasible; and
 - 4. Continually observe subjects for signs of distress. EMS should be requested immediately if any of the following signs are observed or occurred:
 - a. Extreme agitation,
 - b. Violent, bizarre, or irrational behavior,

- c. Profuse sweating,
- d. Difficulty breathing,
- e. Extraordinary strength beyond physical characteristics,
- f. Unusually high tolerance to pain, or
- g. A protracted physical encounter with multiple officers occurred.

B. Officers will not restrain subjects who are in custody and under control in a manner that restricts their ability to breathe.

VI. Officers will stop and report any use of force performed by themselves or another officer that violates applicable laws or department policies.

- A. Officers have a duty to intervene to prevent or stop the use of excessive force by another officer, when it is safe and reasonable to do so.
- B. Any officer who directly observes or has indirect knowledge of a violation of this use of force policy must report it to a supervisor as soon as practical.

VII. Officers will receive training, at least annually, on IMPD's use of force policy and related legal updates.

- A. Training will be designed to:
 - 1. Reinforce the importance of and provide techniques of de-escalation;
 - 2. Simulate actual use of force situations and conditions; and
 - 3. Enhance officers' discretion and judgment in use of force situations in accordance with department directives.
- B. All use of force training will be documented.
